

COLLEGE MEN WERE BEATEN

Goddard Won from University of Vermont Independents, 44 to 31

TEAM WORK WAS SECRET OF SUCCESS

Visitors Were Good Individual Players but Lacked Cohesive Strength

Amid a cheering throng of Goddard under-classesmen and loyal supporters of the Red and White, the hilltop quintet of basket shooters emerged victorious over the University of Vermont Independents by a score of 44 to 31 at the Church street gymnasium last evening in the first game of basketball seen in Barre this season.

No team representing Goddard of late years has come as near equaling the speed, agility and accuracy of the squads which made the school famous in this winter sport a decade ago as the aggregation did last night. From the time the whistle blew for the toss-up in the first period to the end of the second half, Goddard was playing an offensive game and kept the ball in their possession a major part of the time. Their team work was very good, although at times they showed signs of individual playing instead of passing to a free man near the goal. Never was there a dull moment or a lack of dash by either team and every man showed the stamina of excellent training to the very end.

Goddard's passing game was by far superior to that of the collegians and it was mainly through this department of the game that it was possible for the schoolboys to win over their husky rivals, who outweighed the Barre team nearly 20 pounds to the man. Goddard showed the best form displayed thus far this winter, having polished the rough edges that were plainly in evidence two weeks ago in the contest against the Vincin club.

While the boys from the Queen city were clearly outclassed in general team work, due perhaps to the lack of practice together, they showed that the pastime was no new game to them, and time and time again they performed feats which were nothing less than marvelous. The team is composed of what is said to be the pick of the college, several of the men having starred on the floors throughout the state while in prep school, and with a little practice they will form one of the fastest combinations of basket tossers in the state.

Gillio, who has pastimed around Rutland floors for several years, is without doubt one of the cleverest players who has ever stepped on a Barre floor. He is fast and has a faculty of dribbling with either hand and dodging his opponents in a way that is remarkable. On several occasions he worked through the Goddard defense with the ball and dribbled the entire length of the hall. He can shoot the baskets from any position on the floor and above all is a thorough team worker, as he always passes to the man who is in position for the basket, a method which few men have shown on Barre floors this winter. Kraymer at right forward caused the ball six times for Vermont and his work was of high order.

For Goddard, Slayton played the best game, as his team work was very good and he showed the same great form in working the ball up the floor as did Gillio, and he always was playing for the interest of the school, never taking a shot unless free from any defense. Goddard's forwards both had good luck in shooting at the basket, Smith looping seven, while McWilliams shot six. Carroll at center made several marvelous shots, one going through the basket from the side of the hall as he jumped from a guard, shooting while off the floor. Welsh at guard showed the great strength he possesses and was solid as a mountain against the rushes of his husky opponents. It was through the close guarding of Welsh and Slayton that Vermont's score was kept so small, as their shooting was very accurate when free to make shots.

The game started by the shooting of a basket by Gillio, who received a pass from Kraymer and after some clever work of warding his guard, he slipped beneath the basket, making a shot with one hand in a way that brought applause from the Goddard section of the gymnasium. Smith soon followed with a basket for Goddard, while McWilliams followed closely with another point marker from the side of the hall. From this time until nearly the middle of the first period, Vermont took the lead. McIntosh, who was guarding Kraymer, was taken out after the period was nearly half over, and Slayton took his place. From this time Goddard seemed to get a start and at the end of the period they led by a score of 26 to 18.

In the second half Goddard started the scoring after the ball had been in play only a few seconds and kept the jump on their opponents throughout the half. In this period both teams played a closer guarding game which naturally kept the score smaller than in the first, both teams getting less chances to shoot, but the team work was better and the men were playing a faster game. Goddard led in this period by a score of 18 to 13, making three baskets in the last three minutes of play. The score is as follows:

Goddard. Independents.
McWilliams, H. . . . . 12. Greenwood
Smith, H. . . . . 12. Frank
Carroll, C. . . . . 12. Blood
McIntosh, Slayton, G. . . . . 12. Kraymer
Welsh, J. . . . . 12. Gillio
Goals from the floor—Carroll 8, Smith 7, McWilliams 6, Kraymer 6, Gillio 5, Blood 3, Frank, Slayton. Fouls—Kraymer. Timer—Hoerle. Referee—T. Carroll. Time—Two 20-minute periods.

FOR KEEPING MILITIA.

Universal Training to Be Reported Adversely.

Washington, Feb. 14.—An agreement was reached by the House committee on military affairs yesterday to recommend continuance for one year of the National Guard system, and to report adversely on the bills providing for universal military training. It was felt that the criticism of the volunteer system has been unjust, and that the National Guard has not been given sufficient time to prove its value. As a result of this decision Congressman Richard Olney, 2d, of Massachusetts, will make a speech in the House, probably to-day, when the Plattburg section of the military appropriation bill is reached, advocating universal training. He will favor service of from eight to twelve months for all men between the ages of 18 and 21 years. Mr. Olney is of the opinion that the Chamberlain bill, which was recently reported favorably in the Senate, or any other universal training bill, has very little chance of passing the House, but he will make his speech nevertheless, because of his firm belief that universal training is necessary. One of the main German drives has been to divide American opinion on all preparedness measures. One effect of the pacifists' activities is shown by the action of the committee yesterday.

IS AUSTRIA PRE- PARING TO BREAK WITH WILSON?

Departure of Baroness Zwiadinek Indicative of This, It is Thought.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Baroness Zwiadinek, wife of the charge of the Austro-Hungarian embassy, has made arrangements to depart from the United States with Count and Countess Bernstorff and the German embassy staff. In some quarters the departure of the wife of the charge was regarded as significant, in view of the status of relations between the United States and Austria-Hungary.

At the embassy, however, it was said that the baroness simply was taking advantage of what seemed to be a safe opportunity to return to Austria, where her children are.

VILLISTAS NEAR BORDER

Six Miles to South a Band of Thirty Encamps

CAMP FIRES VISIBLE TO BORDER PATROL

Carranza Officials Declare They Are Active Along the Border

Columbus, N. M., Feb. 14.—Villa troops are camped at Palomas, six miles south of the border, their campfires being visible to American soldiers. Cowboys reported there were 30 armed and mounted men in the band. A fleet of aeroplanes with observers from the first aeroband, stationed here, will skirt the border to look over the bandits.

While General Francisco Murguia is engaging the main body of Villa troops near Santa Rosalia, 100 miles south of Chihuahua City, his brother, General Jose Murguia, is gathering 1,500 men in Juarez with a view to attacking the rebels in the territory vacated by the American expedition. In addition to the Juarez garrison of 800, General Murguia has received reinforcements of 300 and expects two more troop trains soon from Chihuahua City.

Five hundred Chinese refugees from Mexico protested Monday against the contemplated plan of deporting them to Juarez. Their leaders said that Villa was expected to attack Juarez and that all Chinese would be executed if he captured the town. The protest has been forwarded to the Chinese minister in Washington. United States immigration officials said arrangements have been made at El Paso to give asylum to Chinese if the Mexican town is attacked.

Six cowboys were arrested and 500 head of cattle seized by Mexican authorities Monday. An official message from Major Pedro Garcia of the Mexican border patrol said the men were trying to drive the cattle across the border without paying duty. He and his force of 50 were attacked twice by a large party of American and Mexican cowboys, he reported, but repulsed both attacks, driving the cowboys back into New Mexico, south of Hachita. The six men detained are believed to be Mexicans. They are being taken to Agua Prieta.

THIRD POTATO FIRE MAKES LOSSES IN 10 DAYS $300,000

Two Blazes at Maysville Siding, Me., and Another Near Houlton, Destroy Costly Food Product.

Presque Isle, Me., Feb. 14.—Four buildings, in which were stored 10,000 barrels of potatoes, valued at present market prices at upwards of $50,000, were destroyed by fire at Maysville Siding, near here, yesterday. Eighteen thousand barrels of potatoes were lost in a similar fire near here Monday. About ten days ago a fire at Houlton destroyed potatoes valued at $150,000. In addition to the potatoes fifty tons of fertilizer was burned yesterday, making the total loss on the buildings and their contents nearly $300,000. The Newson & McLeod Co., of Boston owned nearly half of the potatoes. The blaze started in a loaded Bangor & Aroostook railroad freight car, it was said.

IRISH "FRIENDS" URGE PEACE.

Victor Herbert Carries Society's Appeal to White House.

Washington, Feb. 14.—A delegation representing the Friends of Irish Freedom, headed by Victor Herbert, the composer, left a peace appeal at the White House yesterday.

Worms—A Danger to Children

No gain in a child's health and strength is possible until all worms are removed. Signs of worms are: Dizziness, stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional writhings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. If you see any of these symptoms in your child, don't lose another minute, but get a bottle of Dr. Tru's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller.

Mrs. Norrat of Houston, Texas, writes: "I would not be without Dr. Tru's Elixir in my home." No better laxative made for young or old. At all dealers, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Write to me for further information.

NAVAL BILL PASSES HOUSE

The Bill Now Goes to the Senate for Consideration

BILL APPROPRIATES $369,000,000

"Pork Barrel" or River and Harbor Bills Is Beaten in Committee

Washington, Feb. 14.—The naval appropriation bill, aggregating $369,000,000, including administration emergency amendments for commandeering of ship yards and munitions plants, if necessary, and acquisition of basic patents of aircraft, was passed yesterday by the House. The bill now goes to the Senate.

COMMITTEE KILLS IT.

"Pork Barrel" or River and Harbor Bill Beaten.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The river and harbor bill, dubbed the "Pork Barrel," is defeated. This became known yesterday, following the filing of the minority report from the commerce committee by Senator Kenyon. The bill carries nearly $40,000,000. A minority of the committee recommends $25,000,000. Opponents of the bill have prepared to defeat it by filibuster in the closing days of the session if necessary, and there is every indication they will be able to do so, forcing a compromise of about $25,000,000, the figure provided for in the minority report.

Ready for Creditors.

The doctor coughed gravely. "I am sorry to tell you," he said, looking down at the man in the bed, "that there is no doubt you are suffering from small-pox." The patient turned on his pillow and looked up at his wife. "Julia," he said, in a faint voice, "if any of my creditors call, tell them that at last I am in a position to give them something."—Exchange.

REIGNED AS CHINESE KING MANY MONTHS

American Helps to Drive Out Pirates and is Made Ruler.

San Francisco, Feb. 14.—King Francis of Wanshein, Szechuen province, China, has just arrived here from the Orient on the liner Shinyo Maru.

A year ago he was merely Francis G. Prescott of Boston, manager of the Standard Oil company properties in Wanshein, a remote district of northwestern China. In that district he reigned as king for several months.

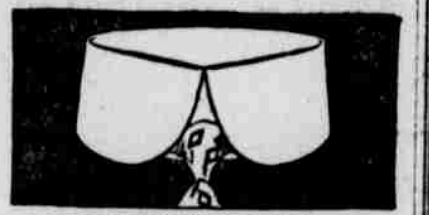

"During the revolution which followed the death of Yuan Shi-kai," he said, "pirates and rebels began arriving at Wanshein in droves and the regular officials fled. Of course I had to protect our company's property."

"The people soon began to gather at my office and we arranged for the defense of the province. We saved the town. The people got an idea I did it and they made me ruler. Maybe they didn't call me king, but that's what it amounted to. They gave me a beautiful palace worth $500,000 to live in, held a procession and wanted to kill a few people for my benefit."

"On one occasion when Victor Muddock visited me they wanted to have an execution or two in honor of his arrival. After the pirates and rebels had been repeatedly driven off and quiet had been restored, the regular officials returned, said Prescott, and he succeeded in convincing the people that he didn't want to be ruler."
